

FIG. 2

The diagram illustrates a 'Reply' email form interface. It features a black header bar with the text 'Reply:' in white. Below the header, there are two input fields: 'To:' and 'Subject:', each containing a wavy line representing text. These fields are followed by two larger text areas, each containing two lines of wavy text. At the bottom of the form, there are two buttons: 'Send' and 'Menu', both with a diagonal hatched background.
